Stainless, hands-free trash cans cut odors, contamina- tion

The latest trash cans from Nine Stars U.S.A. for the medical community include a line of stainless steel, infrared trash cans.

These new commercial models have been engineered with hands-free infrared sensors to protect against cross-contamination. The trash cans can detect motion within 10 inches and will automatically open the lid as a user approaches.

The can is made of commercial 304-grade stainless steel. The lid is made of high-grade ABS plastic so it won't warp, crack or change color due to temperature changes. The lid closes tightly to keep odors in.

The stainless steel infrared trash cans come in 12.5-, 17- and 21-gallon sizes.
